ABOUT DOBBS FERRY

Dobbs Ferry is a Village known for its Hudson River waterfront, generous open spaces, tree-lined streets, a traditional downtown, and a hillside setting all play a part in defining its identity.

This historic Village enjoys a unique location just 20 miles north of midtown Manhattan situated on major train and bus lines. Together with an easily walkable downtown, these qualities make Dobbs Ferry a vibrant small-town community of almost 11,000 neighbors.

The town boasts a high average household income of over $250,000 per year. Additionally, the Village is known for its school system and considered one of the best in Westchester County.

Dobbs Ferry is a diverse community - economically and ethnically, and also diverse in the character of its many distinct residential neighborhoods. Dobbs Ferry enjoys a strong sense of community—among its residents, businesses and institutions—that makes this a particularly wonderful place in which to live and work.
